The Teacher

Who advised her pupils to strengthen their minds by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, appreciated the truth that bodily health is essential to mental vigor. For persons of delicate and feeble constitution, whether young or old, this medicine is remarkably beneficial. Be sure you get Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring and fall I take a number of bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and am greatly benefited."—Mrs. James H. Eastman, Stonelam, Mass.

"I have taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla with great benefit to my general health."—Miss Thirza L. Cramer, Palmyra, Md.

General Debility.

A few weeks since, we began to give her Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Her health has greatly improved."—Mrs. Harriet H. Battles, South Chelmsford, Mass.

"About a year ago I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for debility and neuralgia resulting from malarial exposure in the army. I was in a very bad condition, but six bottles of the Sarsaparilla, with occasional doses of Ayer's Pills, have greatly improved my health. I am now able to work, and feel that I cannot say too much for your excellent remedies."—F. A. Pinkham, South Melrose, Me.

"My daughter, sixteen years old, is using Ayer's Sarsaparilla with good effect."—Rev. S. J. Graham, United Brethren Church, Buckhannon, W. Va.

"I suffered from

with lame back and headache, and have been much benefited by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I am now 80 years of age, and am satisfied that my present health and prolonged life are due to the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Lucy Moffitt, Killingly, Conn.

Mrs. Ann H. Farnsworth, a lady 79 years old, 80 Woodstock, Vt., writes: "After several weeks' suffering from nervous prostration, I procured a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken half of it my usual health returned."

FELL FROM HIS BOAT.

Strange Drowning of a Well Known Steamboat Man.

David Pardon, chief engineer of the steamer State of Washington, fell overboard during the trip of his boat from Tacoma to Seattle Sunday evening and was drowned. No one saw Pardon fall from the boat, nor did any one hear anything during the trip that would indicate that he had fallen overboard.

He came aboard the State of Washington at Tacoma, somewhat under the influence of liquor. He was noticed for some time after the boat left Tacoma, and was last seen by a deck hand standing at the lower outer doorway, which he could not be found. It is supposed that he lost his balance and fell from the doorway at which he was seen standing, and drowned.

Pardon was an American, aged 56 years, and leaves a wife and a grown-up son who reside in Tacoma. He has been a resident of the northwest since early in the fifties. His first steamboating was done for the Oregon Steam Navigation company, for which corporation he went to work in 1858. He steadily followed the business until his tragic death. He was engineer on the old Harvest Queen, which plied on the Columbia river years ago. When the Oregon Steam Navigation company merged into the Oregon Railway and Navigation company Pardon entered its employ and remained with it until the State of Washington was built last summer, during which time he served in various capacities. He was chief engineer of the Enma Haycraft for a long time, and was on her when he took the position on the State of Washington. He was on steamers plying on both the upper and lower Columbia river, Fraser river and during the last few years on Puget sound.

He was one of the best-known men following the business, and leaves behind him a large family of children. He was well-to-do; having property in Portland which paid him an income of a few hundred dollars per month, besides other property on the Sound.

Pardon was an excellent swimmer, and it was thought by many of his friends that possibly he might have escaped drowning by swimming ashore, but had he done this he would have been heard from before now.

No fictitious certificates, but solid facts, testify the marvelous cures by Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

After the admission of the new states there will be several fat offices to distribute. Each of the Dakotas, Montana and Washington will be entitled to a United States district judge, to be appointed from the residents of the state. In each there will be a United States district attorney and a United States marshal.

In South Dakota, Montana and Washington there may be no changes, although upon admission appointments will have to be made, as these officers are now holding their positions under the title of "territory," and the admission act says they must be appointed. Each of the new states is created a judicial district, and the new officers will have to be officers of the state judicial district.

Every family should be provided with a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is a specific for colds and coughs.

Secretary Tracy has concluded his work on the estimates for the year 1889. The appropriations for the years 1889 and 1890 were in round numbers $22,450,000. This included several million for the construction of new vessels now under way or projected. It is understood that the estimates finally passed by secretary Tracy show an increase of about three millions over those of last year, chiefly for new work on vessels and improvements and additions to the navy yards.

Exactly What is Sought After.

A safe, reliable, business, not repulsive remedy that can be taken without changing the regular diet or disorganizing the system; a vegetable compound assisting nature to get rid of impurities in a gradual manner as nature intended. Such is Simmons' Liver Regulator, and a trial proves this to the most skeptical. Complete satisfaction is guaranteed, and certainly it is a satisfaction to find the head clear, the bowels regular, the blood purified and the breath sweet.

Two more firms are in the lead trust.

Government statistics recently published place the population of the Russian Empire at 108,787,235, of which 81,725,185 are in Russia proper.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Connecticut tried the secret ballot for the first time at her town elections Monday.

A DUTY TO YOURSELF.

It is surprising that people will use a common, ordinary pill when they can secure a valuable English one for the same money. Dr. Acker's English pills are a positive cure for sick-headache and all liver troubles. They are small, sweet, easily taken and do not gripe. J. W. Conn, Druggist.

One Johnstown girl has counted thirty-two relatives who perished in the flood.

CAUTION TO MOTHERS.

Every mother is cautioned against giving her child laudanum or paregoric; it creates an unnatural craving for stimulants which kills the mind or the child. Acker's Baby Soother is specially prepared to benefit children and cure their pains. It is harmless and contains no Opium or Morphine. Sold by J. W. Conn, Druggist.

DYSPEPSIA:

It is this misery experienced when we suddenly become aware that we possess a diabolical arrangement at the top of our stomach. The stomach is the very seat from which every fibre and every nerve of the organism, and every organ of the body, draw their life and energy. A diseased stomach, therefore, is a diseased body. Dyspepsia is a general term applied to all disorders of the stomach and its functions. It is a most common complaint, and one which is often overlooked. The symptoms are: indigestion, flatulence, acidity, heartburn, and a general feeling of uneasiness. It is often the result of overeating, or of eating food which is not properly digested. It is also the result of a general debility of the system. Whatever form dyspepsia may take, one thing is certain,

The underlying cause is in the LIVER.

and one thing more is equally certain, no one will remain a dyspeptic who will

It will correct Acidity of the Stomach, Expel foul gases, Alleviate Irritation, Assist Digestion, and, at the same time

Start the Liver to working, when all other troubles soon disappear.

"My wife was a confirmed dyspeptic. Some three years ago she was advised by Dr. Steiner, of Augusta, she was induced to try Simmons' Liver Regulator. I feel grateful for the relief it has given her, and may say that she is now as healthy in any way, whether chronic or otherwise, use Simmons' Liver Regulator and I feel confident health will be restored to all who will be advised."—Wm. M. KENNEDY, Fort Valley, Ga.

Bill Nye's Souvenir of Pocahontas.

Bill Nye claims to have in his possession a letter written by Pocahontas to her father, the great chief Powhatan. It runs as follows:

WENOWOCOMOCO, Sunday, 1607.

DEAR PAW:—You ask me to come to you before another moon. I will try to do so. When Powhatan speaks his daughter tumbles to the racket.

You say that I am too soft on the pale-faced Smith. I hope not. He is a great man and bears a great name. I see that in the future my people must yield to the white man.

Our people are now pretty plenty and the pale-face seldom, but the day will come when the red men will be scattered like the leaves of the forest, and the Smith family will run the entire ranch.

Our medicine man, the one we hire by the month and found, tells me that after a time the tribe of Powhatan will disappear from the face of the earth, while the Smiths will extend their business all over the country, till you can't throw a club at a yellow dog without hitting one of them.

My policy, therefore, is to become solid with the majority. A Smith may some day be chief cook and bottle-holder of this country. We may want to get some measure through the council. See?

And speaking of measures, you tell me you have stopped drinking. In a measure, I am glad of it, if it is that peck measure you used to imbibe your fire-water from. It is too much of a jag for an old man like you.

As to loving the gander-shanked pale-face J. Smith, I hope you will give yourself no unnecessary loss of sleep nor miss your daily ration of baked dog on that account. He is as honestly as a cow shed struck with a club and has two wives and three pairs of twins in Europe.

Fear not, noble dad. Your little Pocahontas has the necessary instinct to paddle her own canoe, and don't you forget it.

Remember me to Brindle Dog and his squaw, the Sore-Eyed Sage Hen, and send me a new diamond and two plugs of tobacco. Ta, ta.

Pocahontas.

A Small Family of Twenty-Eight.

In the western part of North Carolina, and about seven miles west of Hot Springs, there lives a family by the name of Brooks. It is a very interesting one, and many a visitor to the quiet little town of Hot Springs has had his curiosity aroused by stories of this family that they have hired teams and driven seven miles to the Brooks residence. This consists of a little, low log cabin in an unsettled district, and is occupied by father, mother and twenty exceptionally handsome children. Every one is a blonde, with golden yellow hair and much complexion, and all as ignorant, wild and untutored as they are beautiful. In addition to the above family proper the two oldest girls are married; one is a widow with two children and the other has three children and a husband. Both these families are living with the old folks at home, making in all a family of twenty-eight, when none are missing. The home or log cabin consists of but one room, and the very small one, on two sides of this are built seven berths, one above another, against the wall, and they were evidently built with the cabin. In these "boxes" the parents, children and grandchildren lay themselves away when night comes on. This is a day this interesting family may be seen at meals. The oldest members sent themselves about on the ground in front of the house, "Indian fashion," and are favored with a plate and iron spoon, while the younger ones stand around a rough home-made table inside the cabin, eating beans with a relish that is good to look upon. This is the principal diet; now and then they have a change, but it is of the same plain, cheap order. They are all healthy and robust, knowing nothing of sickness. The father of this family, who has to "hustle" for the "beans" to fill the twenty-eight hungry mouths, makes as high as $15 some months, but often his income will not exceed $15 per month, which trifling sum he earns by walking seven miles daily to Hot Springs to work in the mill of a Mr. Frank Gahagan.

The mother, who has a baby in arms, seems contented and happy as she sits with one foot on the side of the home-made cradle, made of an ordinary pine box, with rockers sawed out of a rough board, which she every now and then gives "a kick" to keep the cradle moving, while she sings over and over again a few lines of some old hymn she has learned. Every one is struck with the remarkable beauty of the children, from the youngest to the oldest. It is something wonderful. The parents have found names for all but one, which is without a name yet.
